Severe Winter Weather Alert

January 30, 2023

We are closely monitoring Winter Storm Mara as it spreads Ice, Snow From Texas To Mississippi And Ohio Valleys. Our top priority is the safety and well-being of our drivers and staff. Although contingency plans are in place, anticipate service delays across our network.

The severe winter weather forecasted will adversely impact local, regional, and linehaul networks in and out of these regions throughout the week, with potential transit delays into the following week. Our team will continue to monitor the situation and update delayed shipments accordingly.
